Dewey and Merritt May Have Taken All Philippines.

OUR POLICY IS HELD BACK.

Authorities Not Declaring Themselves Until Official Confirmation Is Received.

THE INSTRUCTIONS TO MERRITT.

They Are Made Public-Believed to Be Elastic Enough to Cover Any or All of the Philippine Islands That May Have Been Brought Under Our Jurisdiction by the Spanish Surrender - General Merritt's Dispatch, Regarding the Fall of Manila, Received and Made Public' Our Loss, He Said, Was Not Accurately Known, but About Fifty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 .- One of the points on which the officials are without definite information is as to the extent of our present authority in the Philippines. Under the peace protocol the United States was given the occu-Philippines. Under the peace protocol the United States was given the occupation of Manila, with the bay and harbor, until a permanent disposition of the Philippine question was reached. But according to press dispatches, But according to press dispatches, which are so circumstantial as to be credited in most official circles, General Merritt and Admiral Dewey received the capitulation of the entire Philip-pines archipelago. There appears to be some doubt therefore even among officials as to whether our present authority or jurisdiction covers Manila only, as provided by the peace protocol, or covers all the Philippines, as provided by the reported terms of capitulation to render of the entire Philippine group. At the same time the secretary did not discredit the accuracy of the press adthis farreaching effect.

Pending more definite information, the attitude of officials is to assume that our authority covers Manila city, Manila bay and harbor and also such other territory as may be occupied by the military and naval forces. The latter phrase is elastic enough to cover any or all of the Philippine islands that may have been brought under our authority by the recent surrender. The instruc-tions sent to General Merritt have in view the expansion of our possessions beyond the terms mentioned in the protocol, as they distinctly state that this government is in possession of Manila and that its authority to preserve peace and order will be exerted "within the territory occupied by their military and naval forces." The cabinet meeting today is expected to deal with the many detailed questions concerning the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico, which have arisen since the peace protocol was ligion:

The war department made public yesterday the instructions sent to General Merritt, as follows:

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.

Major General Merritt, Manila, Philippines: "The president directs that there must be no joint occupation with the insurgents. The United States is in possession of Manila city, Manila bay and harbor and must preserve the peace and protect persons and property within the territory occupied by their military and naval forces. The insurgents and all others must recognize the military occupation and the authority of the United States and the cessation of hostilities proclaimed by the president. Use wnatever means in your judgment are necessary to this end. All law-abiding people must be treated alike. By order "H. C. CORBIN, "Adjutant General." secretaay war,

General Merritt's dispatch, regarding the fall of Manila, received yesterday, was also made public, as follows: "MANILA, Aug. 13, via Hongkong,

"On the 7th inst. Admiral Dewey joined me in a 48-hour notification to the Spanish commander to remove noncombatants from the city. On the same date a reply was received expressing thanks for humane sentiments and stating that the Spanish were without places of refuge for non-combatants now within the walled town.

On the 9th inst. we sent a joint note inviting attention to the suffering in store for the sick and non-combatants in case it became our duty to reduce the defenses, and also setting forth the hopeless conditions of the Spanish forces surrounded on all sides and the fleet in front, with no prospect of reinforcement, and demanded the surrender as due to every consideration of humanity. The same day we received a reply admitting their situa-tion, but stating that the council of de-fense declared the request for the surrender could not be granted, but offered to consult the government if time was granted sufficient for communication tia Hongkong. A joint note in reply

On the 13th we joined with the navy in the attack, with the following result: After about a half hour's accurate shelling of the Spanish lines, MacArthur's brigade on the right and Greene's on the left, under Anderson, made a vigorous attack and carried the Spanish works. The loss is not accurately known, but about 50 in all. The behavior of the troops was excellent and the co-operation of the navy most valuable. The troops advanced rapidly on the walled city, upon which a white flag was shown, and the town capitu-

NOT A COWARD.

Wife of Captain Biddle Resents the Charge.

A COURTMARTIAL FOR HIM.

Ohio Man Accused of Commanding a Retreat In Porto Rico.

GEN. HAINES ORDERED ARREST.

The Captain, It Is Alleged, Was Found In a Culvert Under a Roadway-General Haines and Staff Shamed the Flying Soldiers Into Turning Back-Said They Had Been Ordered to Retreat. Biddle Said to Have Accused Newspaper Correspondent With Giving the Order-Correspondent Was Not With the Ohio Company at the Time.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 19.—Captain T. R. Biddle of Company C, Fourth O. V. I., who is to be courtmartialed at Porto Rico for cowardice in action, comes of a fighting family, his father, H. C. Biddle, who lives here, and his grandfather having been soldiers. One brother is first sergeant and another corporal in this same company. Captain Biddle has been in the Ohio national guard ten years, and was under fire in the miners' riot at Glouster and the lynchers' riot at Washington Court House. He is about 35 years old and married. Mrs. Biddle, who is here, indignantly resented the charge against her husband when asked about it yesterday.
"My husband is no coward," said she,

"and the investigation will prove it."
Captain Biddle is an artist. The charge of cowardice was made in a dispatch to The New York Herald, from Pohce, which read thus:

Company C was advancing on their "rabbit hunt" for invisible Spaniards, when suddenly a volley from sharp-shooters spattered about them.

"Hello, the rabbit is no longer on the run," exclaimed one of the soldiers. Biddle's men were slipping behind the trees and bushes and preparing to make a stand when someone gave the command to retreat.

"Run, boys, there are a thousand to one," came the command, as the men were preparing to make resistance against their as yet invisable foe. It is alleged that Captain Biddle gave the command. Had this panicky alarm not been given, and had not the men seen their commanding officer running with his ick to the fire, they would have stock their ground and fought just as bravely as they did when they received their baptism of fire at Guayamo.

Captain Biddie, it is alleged, was found hiding in a culvert under the roadway. When General Haines and members of the staff heard of the attack they started for the front to rally the demoralized skirmishers. General Haines and his staff officers blocked their flight and shamed the flying soldiers into turning toward the foe. But as they turned they said: "It is not our fault; we were ordered to retreat.'

Captain Biddle, when brought before General Haines and asked for an explanation, said: "I did not order retreat; the flight was all the fault of a newspaper correspondent who:n the men mistook for an officer. He shouted: 'Run, boys, the Spanish are attacking

Not only did Captain Biddle say that a correspondent had ordered the retreat, but he named the correspondent. As it happened the newspaper man whom Captain Biddle accused had been talking with General Haines in his headquarters at Arroyo when the attack took place. General Haines remem-bered this. The accusation had scarcely passed the lips of Captain Biddle when the order came: "Place that man under arrest."

Captain Biddle was taken back to Arroyo, where he is still awaiting trial by courtmartial.

Hulings, arrived in camp yesterday under command of Lieutenant Colonel Pickards of Oil City. Detachments of the Third Missouri, First Rhode Island and the Second Tennessee also arrived and PATRIOTIC VOLUNTEERS.

Arbitrary Order May Be Necessary to Muster Out Some of Them.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The war department has been trying to ascertain the wishes of the troops as to being mustered out, it being the object to accommodate the troops as far as possible. Up to the present time it looks as if all the volunteers wanted to remain and that the mustering out will have to be by an arbitrary order.

"I can't help that. The company has rules that must be obeyed at all times,' answered Mr. Hill.

CREATER NAVY.

London Papers Comment on Our Proposed Increase.

MAY MAKE RUSSIA PAUSE.

United With England's and Japan's Fleets Would Be a Mighty Armament.

WOULD GIVE US FOURTH PLACE.

The London Daily Mail Says the New American Naval Program Is Startling In Its Immensity-Declares We Are Not Likely to Remain Long In Fourth Place as a Naval Power, Nor Will It Be Long Before We Will Have a Policy In China.

London, Aug. 19.—The moring papers comment upon the proposed immense increase in the American navy. The Standard says:

"Such a fleet operating from Manila as a base would be able to exercise considerable influence upon the progress of events in Chinese waters and added to the English China squadron and the Japanese navy would make a mighty armament indeed."

The Standard suggest that this consideration may give Russia a pause.

The Daily Mail says: "The new program is startling in its immensity. The American navy jumps to fourth place among the world's fleet. It will not long remain fourtn, nor will it be long before the United States will have a policy in China."

Washington, Aug. 19.—A naval program for presentation to congress, involving the immediate construction of 15 warships, has been adopted by the naval board of experts to whom the subject had been referred by Secretary Long. It provides for three seagoing barbet-turret battleships of 13,000 tons displacement and a minimum of 18½ knots speed when the vessels are loaded to their deepest draught, or an average speed above 19 knots under ordinary cruising conditions; three first-class armored cruisers of 12,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class pro-tected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons displacement and 20 knots speed, similar to the Maine type, but highly improved, and for six protected cruis-

The reduced speed of these ships was brought about by the desire to secure unprecedented range of action on account of the increased responsibilities of the United States in the Pacific and the certainty that these vessels or most of them would be acquired to make up the fleet in that ocean. The sacrifice of speed to endurance was made with a view to securing vessels of at least 8,000 knots radius, or capable of steaming straightway from San Francisco to Manila and Samoa.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Three hundred and twenty-five officers and men of the New York regiment have embarked on board the steamship Alliance and will sail for Honolulu today. The Red Cross society furnished the New York boys with a luncheon before they went on board ship.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The moring papers comment upon the proposed immense increase in the American navy. The Standard says:

"Such a fleet operating from Manila as a base would be able to exercise considerable influence upon the progress of events in Chinese waters and added to the English China squadron and the Japanese navy would make a mighty armament indeed."

The Standard suggest that this consideration may give Russia a pause.

The Daily Mail says: "The new program is startling in its immensity. The American navy jumps to fourth place among the world's fleet. It will not long remain fourtn, nor will it be long before the United States will have a policy in China."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A naval program for presentation to congress, involving the immediate construction of 15 warships, has been adopted by the naval board of experts to whom the subject had been referred by Secretary Long. It provides for three seagoing barbet-turret battleships of 13,000 tons displacement and a minimum of 1814 knots speed when the vessels are loaded to their deepest draught, or an average speed above 19 knots under ordinary cruising conditions; three first-class armored cruisers of 12,000 tons and 22 "Run, boys, there are a thousand to one," came the command, as the men tected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons are cruisers. tons displacement and 20 knots speed, similar to the Maine type, but highly imeroved, and for six protected cruisers of 2,500 tons and 16 knots speed.

Dewey and Merritt May Have Taken All Philippines.

OUR POLICY IS HELD BACK.

Authorities Not Declaring Themselves Until Official Confirmation Is Received.

THE INSTRUCTIONS TO MERRITT.

They Are Made Public-Believed to Be Elastic Enough to Cover Any or All of the Philippine Islands That May Have Been Brought Under Our Jurisdiction by the Spanish Surrender - General Merritt's Dispatch, Regarding the Fall of Manils, Received and Made Public' Our Loss, He Said, Was Not Accurately Known, but About Fifty.

London, Aug. 19.—The Hougkong correspondent of The Daily Mail says:
"The terms of the capitulation of Manila, as agreed upon Saturday between General Jandenes and General Merritt, include the cession of the Philippine archipelago to the United States."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 .- One of the points on which the officials are without definite information is as to the extent of our present authority in the Philippines. Under the peace protocol the United States was given the occupation of Manila, with the bay and harbor, until a permanent disposition of the Philippine question was reached. But according to press dispatches, which are so circumstantial as to be credited in most official circles, General Merritt and Admiral Dewey received the capitulation of the entire Philip-pines archipelago. There appears to be some doubt therefore even among officials as to whether our present authority or jurisdiction covers Manila only, as provided by the peace protocol, or covers all the Philippines, as provided by the reported terms of capitulation to Merritt and Dewey. There is a disposition to await fuller official informa-At the same time the secretary did not discredit the accuracy of the press advices stating that the capitulation had this farreaching effect. Pending more definite information, the attitude of officials is to assume that our authority covers Manila city, Manila bay and harbor and also such other territory as may be occupied by the military and naval forces. The latter phrase is elastic enough to cover any or all of the Philippine islands that may have been brought under our authority by the recent surrender. The instructions sent to General Merritt have in view the expansion of our possessions beyond the terms mentioned in the protocol, as they distinctly state that this government is in possession of Manila and that its authority to preserve peace and order will be exerted "within the territory occupied by their military and naval forces.' The cabinet meeting to-day is expected to deal with the many detailed questions concerning the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico, which have arisen since the peace protocol was ligion: signed.

The war department made public yesterday the instructions sent to General Merritt, as follows:

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. Major General Merritt, Manila, Philippines: "The president directs that there must be no joint occupation with the insurgents. The United States is in possession of Manila city, Manila bay and harbor and must preserve the peace and protect persons and property within the territory occupied by their military and naval forces. The insurgents and all others must recognize the military oc-cupation and the authority of the United States and the cessation of hostilities proclaimed by the president. Use whatever means in your judgment are necessary to this end. All law-abiding people must be treated alike. By order secretaay war, "H. C. CORBIN, secretaay war, "H. C. CORBIN, "Adjutant General." General Merritt's dispatch, regarding the fall of Manila, received yesterday, was also made public, as follows: "MANILA, Aug. 13, via Hongkong,

Aug. 18,

Adjutant General Washington: "On the 7th inst. Admiral Dewey joined me in a 48-hour notification to the Spanish commander to remove noncombatants from the city. On the same date a reply was received expressing thanks for humane sentiments and stating that the Spanish were without places of refuge for non-combatants now within the walled town.

"On the 9th inst. we sent a joint note inviting attention to the suffering in store for the sick and non-combatants in case it became our duty to reduce the defenses, and also setting forth the hopeless conditions of the Spanish forces surrounded on all sides and the fleet in front, with no prospect of reinforcement, and demanded the surrender as due to every consideration of humanity. The same day we received a reply admitting their situa-tion, but stating that the council of de-fense declared the request for the surrender could not be granted, but offered to consult the government if time was granted sufficient for communication ia Hongkong. A joint note in reply was sent declining.

"On the 13th we joined with the navy in the attack, with the following result: After about a half hour's accurate shelling of the Spanish lines, MacArthur's brigade on the right and Greene's on the left, under Anderson, made a vigorous attack and carried the Spanish works. The loss is not accur-ately known, but about 50 in all. The behavior of the troops was excellent and the co-operation of the navy most valuable. The troops advanced rapidly on the walled city, upon which a white flag was shown, and the town capituiated.

"The troops occupy Malate, Binondo and the walled city of San Miguel. All important centers are protected. The insurgents are kept out. No disorder or illage.

Ohio Man Accused of Commanding a Retreat In Porto Rico.

GEN. HAINES ORDERED ARREST.

The Captain, It Is Alleged, Was Found In a Culvert Under a Roadway-General Haines and Staff Shamed the Flying Soldiers Into Turning Back-Said They Had Been Ordered to Retreat. Biddle Said to Have Accused Newspaper Correspondent With Giving the Order-Correspondent Was Not With the Ohio Company at the Time

COLUMBUS, Aug. 19.—Captain T. R. Biddle of Company C, Fourth O. V. I., who is to be courtmartialed at Porto Rico for cowardice in action, comes of a fighting family, his father, H. C. Biddle, who lives here, and his grandfather having been soldiers. One brother is first sergeant and another corporal in this same company. Captain Biddle has been in the Ohio national guard ten years, and was under fire in the miners' riot at Glouster and the lynchers' riot at Washington Court House. He is about 35 years old and married. Mrs. Biddle, who is here, indignantly re-sented the charge against her husband when asked about it yesterday.
"My husband is no coward," said she,

"and the investigation will prove it."
Captain Biddle is an artist. The charge of cowardice was made in a dispatch to The New York Herald, from Pohce, which read thus:

Company C was advancing on their "rabbit hunt" for invisible Spaniards, when suddenly a volley from sharp-shooters spattered about them.

"Hello, the rabbit is no longer on the run," exclaimed one of the soldiers. Biddle's men were slipping behind the trees and bushes and preparing to make a stand when someone gave the command to retreat.

"Run, boys, there are a thousand to one," came the command, as the men" were preparing to make resistance against their as yet invisable foe. It is alleged that Captain Biddle gave the command. Had this panicky alarm not been given, and had not the men seen their commanding officer running with his ick to the fire, they would have stock their ground and fought just as bravely as they did when they received their baptism of fire at Guayamo.

Captain Biddie, it is alleged, was found hiding in a culvert under the roadway. When General Haines and members of the staff heard of the atthe demoralized skirmishers. General Haines and his staff officers blocked their flight and shamed the flying soldiers into turning toward the foe. But as they turned they said: "It is not our fault; we were ordered to retreat."

Captain Biddle, when brought before General Haines and asked for an explanation, said: "I did not order retreat; the flight was all the fault of a newspaper correspondent whom the men mistook for an officer. He shouted: Run, boys, the Spanish are attacking

Not only did Captain Biddle say that a correspondent had ordered the retreat. but he named the correspondent. As it happened the newspaper man whom Captain Biddle accused had been talking with General Haines in his headquarters at Arroyo when the attack took place. General Haines remembered this. The accusation had scarcely passed the lips of Captain Biddle when the order came:

"Place that man under arrest." Captain Biddle was taken back to Arroyo, where he is still awaiting trial by courtmartial.

THE ARMISTICE LAWS

REGULATIONS OBSERVED DURING A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

An Armistice Must Be In Writing and Duly Ratified by the Contending Nations' Highest Authorities-Once Signed, It Is Binding and Motives Have No Weight.

An armistice is a cessation of hostilities for a certain prescribed period to be agreed upon by the belligerents. An armistice must be set down in writing and properly and duly ratified by the highest authorities of the nations at war. In case of an armistice between the United States and Spain the signers of the agreement would be President McKinley and the little boy in Madrid, or perhaps his mother, the unhappy regent. There are, however, different kinds of armistice. If one be declared without conditions, it is binding no further than to require and demand a complete cessation of all hostile action along the battle front of both belligerents. If there be conditions, it is declared in the unwritten statutes of international law that these conditions must be clearly and definitely expressed in the agreement, and it must be understood in advance that both parties to the armistice fully comprehend all the terms attached to the agreement. These conditions, no matter what they may involve, must be religiously and scrupulously adhered to on both sides, and the slightest violation means that civilized The Twentieth is now at San Frannations will no longer recognize the cisco. offender as one of them.

In the last case either side is at liberty to resume hostilities after having given notice to its foe, the form and manner and scope of such notice having of course been noted in the signed agreement entered into before war ceased.

The character of an armistice is in no way affected by the motives which bring about the cessation of hostilities. No matter whether the truce is effected as a preliminary to permanent peace or velt, but he refused to tell what transas a breathing spell, during which quiet pired. preparations be made for a revival of war on a more thorough and telling basis, the armistice has the same force and is to be as religiously recognized. An armistice is binding, once signed, and motives are of no consequence. The truce is effective upon the belligerents from the hour of the agreed beginning of it. Officers in the field are bound by its terms from the time they receive official information of its existence.

The contracting powers to an armistice must declare in the draft of their truce what communication shall be held between the armies and also what intercourse of traffic or business shall be permitted between persons who inhabit or occupy the land on which the soldiers of both sides are encamped. If no intercourse whatever is to be allowed, this fact must be noted in the armistice agreement and strictly lived up to. If nothing of this nature is mentioned in the paper, the intercourse between the armies will remain suspended as during actual hostilities. When an armistice, however, has been concluded between any fortified place and the enemy engaged in besieging it, it is agreed by all the authorities on international law that the besieging army must at once put a stop to all extension, perfection or advance of his attacking works, just as much as he must cease making sorties or other attacks by main force. On the other hand, martial jurists are not agreed on the point as to whether the besieged have the right to repair breaches or to erect new works of defense within the beleaguered place. It is the custom in this instance for an express agreement to be entered into when the armistice is signed. As soon as a capitulation is signed the commander who surrenders has no right to demolish, destroy or in any way injure the fortifications, buildings, arms, ammunition or stores in his possession during the time which elapses between the signing of the surrender and its execution unless it is specifically noted in the terms that he is at liberty to do as he pleases with what is in his possession. This point is made as a connection between the action of a besieged officer and an armistice, and some men who know all about warfare hold that if it is unlawful to destroy after a surrender it is therefore equally as criminal to repair broken forts during an armistice. When an armistice is broken by either party to its terms, the other side is released on the spot from all obligations to observe it. Plenipotentiaries may meet to discuss a peace treaty without a preliminary armistice. When this is rule, however, is for the belligerents to conclude a truce while the messengers of the rulers are in session, endeavoring to reach an agreement which shall end the war. - Owen Oliver in Chicago Times-Herald.

It is a blessed period in a woman's life when a dear little stranger comes driving down out of cloudland to make its home in her heart and call her mother. Yet the majority of women ap-proach this time with fear and misgiving both for themselves and the expected little one. The mother's weakness or imperfection in the baby while the wom-anly nature fears its own sufferings; and per-haps a little spice of vani-ty about her figure makes her dread that its attractive contour may be destroyed by maternity. But as a matter of fact when a woman is in per-fect health and condition, motherhood should only serve to enhance and accentuate her phy-sical attractiveness. Every expectant mother should know and avail

herself of the health-giving, nerve-toning properties of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives specific strength and endurance to the organism of maternity; promotes thorough, healthy, constitutional vigor and recuperative energy. It makes motherhood safe and comparatively comfortable; insures the baby's perfection and preserves the mother's buoyant spirit and preserves the mother's buoyant spirit and womanly attractiveness.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hull, 27 Merrick Street, Pawtucket, R. I., writes: "I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and cannot speak too well of it. I have had fifteen babies, and always had a bad time. Sometimes I had to have two doctors. I began taking your 'Prescription' last July, and in September I gave birth to two little girls, and I never had such an easy time. I had no doctor, and was not in pain half of the time as before. My weight is about two hundred pounds. My twins when born weighed ten pounds each. They are fine girls, now four months old."

In many cases where constipation is one of the aggravating causes of disease, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used in conjunction with the "Favorite Prescription." They are the simplest and most perfectly natural laxative ever invented.

Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church Alley. who is employed in the East Liverpool Pottery Co., says:

"I was troubled a great deal with muscular rheumatism, but for three years it settled in my back and kidneys, and caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weak-ness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back and there was a urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicine. I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble.

A Wonderful Time Divider.

The new pendulum chronoscope is said to be the most wonderful timing instrument in the world. It measures accurately down to the one-thousandth part of a second. It can be used with the quickness of a stop watch, and neither electrician nor mathematician is needed to operate the instrument, which is mechanical, with simple electrical attachments. The speed of a cannon ball can be determined by the new timer, and it will tell the lapse of time between the firing of a revolver and the starting of a runner, or determine how long it takes a boxer to deliver a blow.

THE ARMISTICE LAWS

REGULATIONS OBSERVED DURING A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

An Armistice Must Be In Writing and Duly Ratified by the Contending Nations' Highest Authorities-Once Signed, It Is Binding and Motives Have No Weight.

An armistice is a cessation of hostilities for a certain prescribed period to be agreed upon by the belligerents. An armistice must be set down in writing and properly and duly ratified by the highest authorities of the nations at war. In case of an armistice between the United States and Spain the signers of the agreement would be President McKinley and the little boy in Madrid, or perhaps his mother, the unhappy regent. There are, however, different kinds of armistice. If one be declared without conditions, it is binding no further than to require and demand a complete cessation of all hostile action along the battle front of both belligerents. If there be conditions, it is declared in the unwritten statutes of international law that these combitions must be clearly and definitely expressed in the agreement, and it must be understood in advance that both parties to the armistice fully comprehend all the terms attached to the agreement. These conditions, no matter what they may involve, must be religiously and scrupulously adhered to on both sides, and the slightest violation means that civilized nations will no longer recognize the offender as one of them.

An armistice may be declared null and void by either party to its terms at Five Others Badly Injured by a Collapse any time a violation of its conditions has become palpable. The instant it is declared and proved that an act forbidden in the agreement has been committed the offending nation is at the mercy of its foe, and in all cases where such a violation has been noted it also has been North Fifth street. The dead are: noted that the criminal was taken at a disadvantage and crushed before it could strike an effective blow to back up its treachery. An armistice may also be general and valid for all points and lines of the belligerent nations, or an armistice may be declared special, or referring to certain localities and certain portions of the contending armies. An armistice may be entered into for a definite or stated time, or it may be arranged for an indefinite period. In the last case either side is at liberty to resume hostilities after having given notice to its foe, the form and manner and scope of such notice having of course been noted in the signed agreement entered into before war ceased.

The character of an armistice is in no way affected by the motives which bring about the cessation of hostilities. It is a blessed period in a woman's life when a dear little stranger comes driving down out of cloudland to make its home in her heart and call her mother. Yet the majority of women approach this time with fear and misgiving both for themselves and the expected little one. The mother's bodes weakness or imperfection in the baby while the womanly nature fears its own sufferings; and per-haps a little spice of vani-ty about her figure makes her dread that its attractive contour may be destroyed by maternity. But as a matter of fact when a woman is in per-fect health and condi-tion, motherhood should only serve to enhance and accentuate her phy-sical attractiveness. Every expectant mother should know and avail

herself of the health-giving, nerve-toning properties of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives specific strength and endurance to the organism of maternity; promotes thorough, healthy, constitutional vigor and recuperative energy. It makes motherhood safe and comparatively com-fortable; insures the baby's perfection and preserves the mother's buoyant spirit and womanly attractiveness.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hull, 27 Merrick Street, Pawtucket, R. I., writes: "I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and cannot speak too well of it. I have had fifteen babies, and always had a bad time. Sometimes I had to have two doctors. I began taking your 'Prescription' last July, and in September I gave birth to two little girls, and I never had such an easy time. I had no doctor, and was not in pain half of the time as before. My weight is about two hundred pounds. My twins when born weighed ten pounds each. They are fine girls, now four months old."

In many cases where constipation is one of the aggravating causes of disease, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used in conjunction with the "Favorite Prescrip-tion." They are the simplest and most perfectly natural laxative ever invented.

I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back. and there was a urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. Theworst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicine, I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time. I highly recommend them."

A Wonderful Time Divider.

The new pendulum chronoscope is said to be the most wonderful timing instrument in the world. It measures accurately down to the one-thousandth part of a second. It can be used with the quickness of a stop watch, and neither electrician nor mathematician is needed to operate the instrument, which is mechanical, with simple electrical attachments. The speed of a cannon ball can be determined by the new timer, and it will tell the lapse of time between the firing of a revolver and the starting of a runner, or determine how long it takes a boxer to deliver a blow.

Private John Noss, of Company E. Tenth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, who was killed in the battle at Malate, was known in this city, and had been in Liverpool upon several occasions.

Lon Thomas was at one time chief musician of the Tenth Pennsylvania of which Company E, of Freedom, was a part, and in speaking of Noss said:

"Noss was always a good boy, he was 25 years old and had been a member of Company E ever since he was old enough to join. When the company disbanded and its headquarters moved to another place Noss retained his membership the same as I, and I can now show the same. He was a born fighter, and during the life of the Noss family there was never a member who went to war that came back alive. Four of his relatives died in the civil war and he is the fifth to give his life for his country."

THE ARMISTICE LAWS

REGULATIONS OBSERVED DURING A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

An Armistice Must Be In Writing and Duly Ratified by the Contending Nations' Highest Authorities-Once Signed, It Is Binding and Motives Have No Weight.

An armistice is a cessation of hostilities for a certain prescribed period to be agreed upon by the belligerents. An armistice must be set down in writing and properly and duly ratified by the highest authorities of the nations at war. In case of an armistice between the United States and Spain the signers of the agreement would be President McKinley and the little boy in Madrid, or perhaps his mother, the unhappy regent. There are, however, different kinds of armistice. If one be declared without conditions, it is binding no further than to require and demand a complete cessation of all hostile action along the battle front of both belligerents. If there be conditions, it is declared in the unwritten statutes of international law that these conditions must be clearly and definitely expressed in the agreement, and it must be understood in advance that both parties to the armistice fully comprehend all the terms attached to the agreement. These conditions, no matter what they may involve, must be religiously and scrupulously adhered to on both sides, and the slightest violation means that civilized The Twentieth is now at San Frannations will no longer recognize the cisco. offender as one of them.

An armistice may be declared null and void by either party to its terms at any time a violation of its conditions has become palpable. The instant it is declared and proved that an act forbidden in the agreement has been committed the offending nation is at the mercy of its foe, and in all cases where such a violation has been noted it also has been North Fifth street. The dead are: noted that the criminal was taken at a disadvantage and crushed before it lines of the belligerent nations, or an and two children; Harry Evans, brickarmistice may be declared special, or layer, aged 25 years of Camden, N. J. referring to certain localities and certain portions of the contending armies. An armistice may be entered into for a definite or stated time, or it may be arranged for an indefinite period. In the last case either side is at liberty to resume hostilities after having given notice to its foe, the form and manner and scope of such notice having of course been noted in the signed agreement entered into before war ceased.

The character of an armistice is in no way affected by the motives which bring about the cessation of hostilities. No matter whether the truce is effected as a breathing spell, during which quiet pired. preparations be made for a revival of war on a more thorough and telling basis, the armistice has the same force and is to be as religiously recognized. An armistice is binding, once signed, from the hour of the agreed beginning of it. Officers in the field are bound by its terms from the time they receive official information of its existence.

The contracting powers to an armistice must declare in the draft of their truce what communication shall be held between the armies and also what intercourse of traffic or business shall be permitted between persons who inhabit or occupy the land on which the soldiers of both sides are encamped. If no intercourse whatever is to be allowed, this fact must be noted in the armistice agreement and strictly lived up to. If nothing of this nature is mentioned in the paper, the intercourse between the Edwin S. Cramp, wife of the superinarmies will remain suspended as during tendent of the Cramp company, chrisactual hostilities. When an armistice, however, has been concluded between any fortified place and the enemy engaged in besieging it, it is agreed by all the authorities on international law that the besieging army must at once put a stop to all extension, perfection or advance of his attacking works, just as much as he must cease making sorties or other attacks by main force. On the other hand, martial jurists are not agreed on the point as to whether the besieged have the right to repair breaches or to erect new works of defense within the beleaguered place. It is the custom in this instance for an express agreement to be entered into when the armistice is signed.

As soon as a capitulation is signed the commander who surrenders has no right to demolish, destroy or in any way injure the fortifications, buildings, arms, ammunition or stores in his possession during the time which elapses between the signing of the surrender and its execution unless it is specifically noted in the terms that he is at liberty to do as he pleases with what is in his possession. This point is made as a connection between the action of a besieged officer and an armistice, and some men who know all about warfare hold that if it is unlawful to destroy after a surrender it is therefore equally as criminal to repair broken forts during an armistice. When an armistice is broken by either party to its terms, the other side is released on the spot from all obligations to observe it. Plenipotentiaries may meet to discuss a peace treaty without a preliminary armistice. When this is the case, the war is carried on without the least sign of cessation. The usual

rule, however, is for the belligerents to conclude a truce while the messengers of the rulers are in session, endeavoring to reach an agreement which shall end the war.-Owen Oliver in Chicago Times-Herald.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 .- The conditions at Santiago are causing a great deal of uneasiness, and it is believed that more troops will be ordered there very soon. Inquiries have been made as to the condition of the immune regiments which have not yet sailed, with a view of sending them to Santiago. It is a blessed period in a woman's life when a dear little stranger comes driving down out of cloudland to make its home in her heart and call her mother. Yet the ma-jority of women ap-proach this time with fear and misgiving both for themselves and the expected little one.

The mother's weakness or imperfection in the baby while the wom-anly nature fears its own sufferings; and per-haps a little spice of vani-ty about her figure makes her dread that its attractive contour may be destroyed by maternity. But as a matter of fact when a woman is in per-fect health and condi-tion, motherhood should only serve to enhance and accentuate her phy-sical attractiveness. Ev.

sical attractiveness. Every expectant mother should know and avail herself of the health-giving, nerve-toning properties of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives specific strength and endurance to the organism of maternity; promotes thorough, healthy, constitutional vigor and recuperative energy. It makes motherhood safe and comparatively com-fortable; insures the baby's perfection and preserves the mother's buoyant spirit and womanly attractiveness.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hull, 27 Merrick Street, Pawtucket, R. I., writes: "I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and cannot speak too well of it. I have had fifteen babies, and always had a bad time. Sometimes I had to have two doctors. I began taking your 'Prescription' last July, and in September I gave birth to two little girls, and I never had such an easy time. I had no doctor, and was not in pain half of the time as before. My weight is about two hundred pounds. My twins when born weighed ten pounds each. They are fine girls, now four months old."

In many cases where constipation is one of the aggravating causes of disease, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used in conjunction with the "Favorite Prescription." They are the simplest and most perfectly natural laxative ever invented.

"I was troubled a great deal with mus cular rheumatism, but for three years it settled in my back and kidneys, and caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weak-ness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back, and there was a urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicine, I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble.

A Wonderful Time Divider.

The new pendulum chronoscope is said to be the most wonderful timing instrument in the world. It measures accurately down to the one-thousandth part of a second. It can be used with the quickness of a stop watch, and neither electrician nor mathematician is needed to operate the instrument, which is mechanical, with simple electrical attachments. The speed of a cannon ball can be determined by the new timer, and it will tell the lapse of time between the firing of a revolver and the starting of a runner, or determine how long it takes a boxer to deliver a blow.

Funeral Services and Interment Will Be Private - An Unpleasant Experience. Aged Resident of Hammondsville Dead. All the News of Wellsville.

While Prof. J. L. McDonald was attending the Township Line picnic, word came from Cleveland that Mrs. McDonald had died at the Newburg hospital. The body was brought here today at noon and kept until her son, Charles R. McDonald, arrived from Chicago. Arrangements had been made to have private services followed immediately by the interment in Spring Hill cemetery.

Mrs. McDonald had been ill for 18 years. She leaves her husband and the children Charles, William and Mary. She was 58 years of age, and was highly esteemed when a resident of Wellsville.

For the Soldiers.

With commendable enterprise the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps are endeavoring to fill a box for the use and comfort of the soldier boys at the front.

It was not expected that the organization would fill the box, but the citizens generally were invited to contribute. Probably through misunderstanding there has not been a generous response to the call made, and the ladies feel somewhat discouraged at the result.

Another call will be sounded which. it is hoped, will meet with better success. Only a few glasses of jelly, some muslin and bandages and several night shirts are all that have yet been sent in. As this is the first effort yet made we feel sure it is only a misunderstanding by the citizens that has not brought out a more generous response.

An Unpleasant Experience.

Dick Haugh and James Kincaid had a most unpleasant experience last night. About 11 o'clock as they were returning from a trip to Jefferson county, the swollen streams were almost impassable, and on reaching Eighteenth street the water was over the bridge several feet. The condition of the bridge was too uncertain to risk driving across, so Mr. Haugh waded through in front of the team.

Peter Clinton died at his home near Hammondsville at 12 o'clock yesterday. Mr. Clinton was aged 73 years. His death was very sudden and was caused by a paralytic stroke.

The Trade In Crockery Is Much Increased.

Says China, Glass and Lamps in reviewing the crockery trade:

"The demand for general pottery products shows up well for this season of the year, and trade during August has tions. been a great improvement on July. New patterns and decorations prepared during the summer have made their appearance and the fall trade promises to be larger than for years. The imports from abroad have fallen off over $3,000-000 during the past twelve months, and since there is every probability of prices in England, our chief importing competitor, being advanced a still further curtailment of imports during the coming year may be confidently expected. As a result of this large decrease of imports it seems most certain that the trade of domestic potters must correspondingly increase, and the new goods prepared for the fall trade should have an exceptionally large demand. The demand for dinner ware and toilet china has been quite large, and our reports show that trade in these lines is very encouraging. The expansion of the trade in novelties and specialties, combining artistic merit with utility, at a low price, and small sets of table service, shows that our potters are very much alive to their opportunities, and fully realize the changed conditions of the trade."

Funeral Services and Interment Will Be Private - An Unpleasant Experience. Aged Resident of Hammondsville Dead. All the News of Wellsville.

While Prof. J. L. McDonald was attending the Township Line picnic, word came from Cleveland that Mrs. McDonald had died at the Newburg hospital. The body was brought here today at noon and kept until her son, Charles R. McDonald, arrived from Chicago. Arrangements had been made to have private services followed immediately by

Mrs. McDonald had been ill for 18 years. She leaves her husband and the children Charles, William and Mary. She was 58 years of age, and was highly esteemed when a resident of Wellsville.

For the Soldiers.

With commendable enterprise the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps are endeavoring to fill a box for the use and comfort of the soldier boys at the front.

It was not expected that the organization would fill the box, but the citizens generally were invited to contribute. Probably through misunderstanding there has not been a generous response to the call made, and the ladies feel somewhat discouraged at the result.

Another call will be sounded which, it is hoped, will meet with better success. Only a few glasses of jelly, some muslin and bandages and several night shirts are all that have yet been sent in. As this is the first effort yet made we feel sure it is only a misunderstanding by the citizens that has not brought out a more generous response.

An Unpleasant Experience.

Dick Haugh and James Kincaid had a most unpleasant experience last night. The Trade In Crockery Is Much Increased.

Says China, Glass and Lamps in reviewing the crockery trade:

"The demand for general pottery products shows up well for this season of the year, and trade during August has been a great improvement on July. New patterns and decorations prepared during the summer have made their appearance and the fall trade promises to be $6.50. larger than for years. The imports from abroad have fallen off over $3,000-000 during the past twelve months, and since there is every probability of prices in England, our chief importing competitor, being advanced a still further curtailment of imports during the coming year may be confidently expected. As a result of this large decrease the interment in Spring Hill cemetery. of imports it seems most certain that the trade of domestic potters must correspondingly increase, and the new goods prepared for the fall trade should have an exceptionally large demand. The demand for dinner ware and toilet china has been quite large, and our reports show that trade in these lines is very encouraging. The expansion of the trade in novelties and specialties, combining artistic merit with utility, at a low price, and small sets of table service, shows that our potters are very much alive to their opportunities, and fully realize the changed conditions of the trade."

MAINTAINING PEACE.

Conditions at Santiago are such that the government must for a time at least govern with a firm hand. Regular troops and the immunes will maintain order and see that the people do as the new laws direct. No one desires to see done that which will make the United States appear as a tyrant, but until these people realize that liberty is not license to kill and rob, the government must show its power.

Then they should be given a rousing reception. The whole town should turn out and do honor to its brave representatives. Everything should be done that will show them how East Liverpool appreciates them and their work. It has been said our celebrations are best when we have had no time to prepare for them, but this time the preparation should be careful and complete. Who will step forward and offer his services? Is there a society or organization in the city to take the initiative? Whoever it may be is assured of a prompt reply from scores of sources. It only needs a few to lead. Let that few be found quickly, for the soldier boys must be appropriately received.

THE NAVY'S HERO.

Admiral Sampson, Admiral Schley and Lieutenant Hobson have taken places near to the hearts of the people because of their efficiency and daring during the war, but Admiral Dewey is today as he was early in May, the idol of the navy and the pride of the people. He opened the ball and when the time came appropriately closed it. To him belongs the honor of two great victories, and the people will not forget them.

For some reason the navy has not been well represented in the government, its heroes being content with honors won in war. Now there may be a change. Admiral Dewey has proved himself diplomat as well as fighter. Who knows but what the nation, stirred by its desire to remember the brave admiral, will call him from a place in the life he has so long followed to a high position in the government of the nation. Counting heroes as they go, Admiral Dewey deserves almost anything within the gift of the people.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are vn to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Label at the head of their columns.

Don't forget the bond election tomorrow. It means much to the city should it be successful.

A LETTER, received today from Captain Palmer, will appear in the NEWS REVIEW of tomorrow. It contains some interesting information concerning Manila and conditions as they existed there a few weeks ago.

GOVERNOR BUSHNELL, who but recently returned to Columbus after a vacation, announced that he did not know the Republican committee wanted him to call a special session of the legislature in order that provision, might be made for soldiers to vote, adding that it is not too late yet. Governor Bushnell's friends will be glad to hear him talk that way.

MAINTAINING PEACE.

Conditions at Santiago are such that the government must for a time at least govern with a firm hand. Regular troops and the immunes will maintain order and see that the people do as the new laws direct. No one desires to see done that which will make the United States appear as a tyrant, but until these people realize that liberty is not license to kill and rob, the government must show its power.

HONOR THE BOYS.

It is within the range of possibility that the Eighth Ohio will be mustered out soon after their arrival in this country, and the boys of Company E will come home to the city they left a few months ago.

Then they should be given a rousing reception. The whole town should turn out and do honor to its brave representatives. Everything should be done that will show them how East Liverpool appreciates them and their work. It has been said our celebrations are best when we have had no time to prepare for them, but this time the preparation should be careful and complete. Who will step forward and offer his services? Is there a society or organization in the city to take the initiative? Whoever it may be is assured of a prompt reply from scores of sources. It only needs a few to lead. Let that few be found quickly, for the soldier boys must be appropriately received.

THE NAVY'S HERO.

Admiral Sampson, Admiral Schley and Lieutenant Hobson have taken places near to the hearts of the people because of their efficiency and daring during the war, but Admiral Dewey is today as he was early in May, the idol of the navy and the pride of the people. He opened the ball and when the time came appropriately closed it. To him belongs the honor of two great victories, and the people will not forget them.

For some reason the navy has not been well represented in the government, its heroes being content with honors won in war. Now there may be a change. Admiral Dewey has proved himself diplomat as well as fighter. Who knows but what the nation, stirred by its desire to remember the brave admiral, will call him from a place in the life he has so long followed to a high position in the government of the nation. Counting heroes as they go, Admiral Dewey deserves almost anything within the gift of the people.

Laughed Away the Danger.

Ben Cable of Illinois tells of an experience of his in midocean. The day was foggy, and most of the passengers were below listening to two evangelists who were holding a particularly fervid gospel meeting in the saloon. Suddenly and without the slightest warning there was a terrific crash and the eigines stopped. Every one rushed on deck. The steamer had run into an iceberg.

Nobody knew what damage had been done, and everybody was ready to fly into a panic. The boats were lowered, and then for the first time the two evangelists, who had been forgotten in the saloon, appeared on deck. They wore their overcoats and their hats and they carried rugs and handbags. They elbowed their way rudely to the rail, with the evident intent of securing for themselves first places in the boat. It was just at a time when a breath would have sent the passengers panic stricken into the boats.

The sight of the two evangelists was about to undo the work of cool headed officers, when a pert little cockney stepped up to the gentlemen with the rugs and handbags.

'Beg pardon," said he, tipping his cap, "'ave a cab, sir?"

And in the general laugh the danger of panic was averted. - Washington

The Horses of Manila.

Among the first things to impress a stranger are the horses. Descended from horses brought from Mexico, they have become much smaller, while they are also much more shapely. In fact, I have never seen a better looking breed. There is nothing of the pony in their shape, though in size they range between 48 and 52 inches. At first it looked absurd to see them ridden by big men whose stirrups hung down to the horses' knees, but I soon found out that they easily carried a rider weighing 200 pounds. The foreigners have a jockey club, which holds two meetings a year at the beautiful turf track at Santa Mesa. To avoid sharp practice members of the club only are eligible to ride. This necessitates a scale of weights starting at 132 pounds and rising to 154 pounds. It demonstrates the speed and strength To Various Points via Pennsylof these miniature horses that a mile has been run in 2:10 by a pony carrying 150 pounds. Only stallions are used. Mares cannot even be brought into the city. Nobody walks; everybody rides, and on any special fiesta thousands of carriages fill the streets. I doubt if there is a city in the world in the event. The reduced rates will be open that can turn out half the number of private vehicles in proportion to the population.

Faithful Unto Death.

On the point of courage we have not yet seen in print a very notable instance that is current in service circles. It relates to one of the numerous heroic but useless struggles on the northwest frontier of India when our men were sent forward to carry positions that had to be relinquished as soon as occupied. When the men were retiring, harassed by the fire of the hillsmen and bewildered by the growing darkness, a party of 13 went astray and found themselves in a position where resistance and retreat were alike hopeless. They were exposed without protection and were shot down one by one.

When their comrades retook the valley and discovered the bodies, they discovered also the evidences of a rare act of courage, devotion and cool judgment. Knowing that their end had come, and, knowing further that every Lee-Metford rifle that fell into the hands of the Afridis meant the loss of many English lives, the men had extracted the breech locks from the rifles and hurled them down the ravine, so that the rifles when taken should be useless to their captors. -London Saturday Review.

The Nagur and the Fiddle.

Here is a story that the late Frederick Douglass used to tell about himself, says the Buffalo Express. Once when he was in Dublin he felt very lonesome. He was wandering about the streets when he was attracted by two violins in the window of a secondhand dealer. Frederick entered and asked the price for vacation trips. For special informaof one of the instruments.

Frederick tuned the violin and began to play "Rocky Road to Dublin." Soon the proprietor's wife heard the music and entered the rear door. Then Frederick started in on "The Irish Washerwoman," and the couple began to dance for dear life. When the music and dancing stopped, Frederick tendered the dealer 5 shillings, but his performance on the violin had greatly enhanced its value in the mind of the storekeeper, and as he hurried away to a place of security he exclaimed:

"If a black nagur can git sich chunes out of that fiddle, I'll never sell it at any price, begorrah!"

Vindication.

"Are you not ashamed to look your children in the face?" hissed the unhappy girl.

Her father bit his lips; that done, he cut loose.

"I will no longer endure to be unjustly reproached!" he cried. "You kids get your pug neses from your mother's folks!'

Sinking into a chair, he wept weak tears, not strong enough indeed to phase the colors in the uphoistering .-Detroit Journal.

Suddenly and without the slightest warning there was a terrific crash and the engines stopped. Every one rushed or deck. The steamer had run into an iceberg.

Nobody knew what damage had been done, and everybody was ready to fly into a panic. The boats were lowered, and then for the first time the two evangelists, who had been forgotten in the saloon, appeared on deck. "Beg pardon," said he, tipping his cap, "'ave a cab, sir?"

The Horses of Manila.

Among the first things to impress a stranger are the horses. Descended from horses brought from Mexico, they have become much smaller, while they are also much more shapely. In fact, I have never seen a better looking breed. There is nothing of the pony in their shape, though in size they range between 48 and 52 inches. At first it looked absurd to see them ridden by big men whose stirrups hung down to the horses' knees, but I soon found out that they easily carried a rider weighing 200 pounds. The foreigners have a jockey club, which holds two meetings a year at the beautiful turf track at Santa Mesa. To avoid sharp practice members of the club only are eligible to ride. This necessitates a scale of weights starting at 132 pounds and rising to 154 pounds. It demonstrates the speed and strength To Various Points via Pennsylof these miniature horses that a mile has been run in 2:10 by a pony carrying 150 pounds. Only stallions are used. Mares cannot even be brought into the city. Nobody walks; everybody rides, and on any special flesta thousands of carriages fill the streets. I doubt if there is a city in the world that can turn out half the number of to everybody. private vehicles in proportion to the population.

Faithful Unto Death.

On the point of courage we have not yet seen in print a very notable instance that is current in service circles. It relates to one of the numerous heroic but useless struggles on the northwest frontier of India when our men were sent forward to carry positions that had to be relinquished as soon as occupied. When the men were retiring, harassed by the fire of the hillsmen and bewildered by the growing darkness, a party of 13 went astray and found themselves in a position where resistance and retreat were alike hopeless. They were exposed without protection and were shot down one by one.

When their comrades retook the valley and discovered the bodies, they discovered also the evidences of a rare act able for its invigorating effect, and the of courage, devotion and cool judgment. Knowing that their end had come, and, knowing further that every Lee-Metford rifle that fell into the hands of the Afridis meant the loss of many English lives, the men had extracted the breech locks from the rifles and hurled them down the ravine, so that the rifles when the Rockies and the hills and canyons taken should be useless to their captors. -London Saturday Review.

The Nagur and the Fiddle.

Here is a story that the late Freder ick Douglass used to tell about himself, says the Buffalo Express. Once when he was in Dublin he felt very lonesome. He was wandering about the streets when he was attracted by two violins in the window of a secondhand dealer. Frederick entered and asked the price of one of the instruments.

"Five shillings, sor," said the Irish dealer.

Frederick tuned the violin and began to play "Rocky Road to Dublin." Soon the proprietor's wife heard the music and entered the rear door. Then Frederick started in on "The Irish Washerwoman, "and the couple began to dance for dear life. When the music and dancing stopped, Frederick tendered the dealer 5 shillings, but his performance on the violin had greatly enhanced its value in the mind of the storekeeper, and as he hurried awaytto a place of security he exclaimed:

"If a black nagur can git sich chunes out of that fiddle, I'll never sell it at any price, begorrah!"

Vindication.

"Are you not ashamed to look your children in the face?" hissed the unhappy girl. Her father bit his lips; that done, he cut loose. "I will no longer endure to be unjustly reproached!" he cried. "You kids get your pug neses from your mother's folks!" Sinking into a chair, he wept weak tears, not strong enough indeed to phase the colors in the upholstering. -Derroit Journal

Finance Committee Prepared For Election.

WHY THE BONDS ARE NEEDED

Streets Must Be Repaired at Once, and to Borrow the Money From the Banks Would Mean a Useless Expenditure in Interest-Taxes Not Increased.

Finance committee of council held a meeting last evening for the purpose of completing arrangements for the bond election tomorrow.

There were present Mr. Marshall, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Cain and Mr. Olnhausen, and the gentlemen were not long in winding up the business.

While the hospital bond issue is an important matter, the city officials are anxious to see the street matter attended to by the people. It is absolately necessary that something be done at once, and bonds are asked because the city can in that way save money.

If bonds are issued the city can sell them at a premium and the rate of interest will be but four per cent, while if the people do not vote in the affirmative council must borrow the money from the banks and pay seven cent. The bond issue will increase the rate of taxation for council argues that it can do as it has done in other years, pay off the bonds without an extra assessment. The desire is that every man who is interested in an economical administration of the city's affairs will go to the polls tomorrow and cast a ballot in favor of the bond issue. A Marvelous Time Measurer

As illustrating the triumphs of modern science in the construction of instruments of precision The Scientific American instances a chronograph for recording infinitesimal intervals of time, such as a millionth of a second or less, which is stated to have been used to record autographically the compression by a blow of a cylindrical piece of copper. In one case a 33 pound weight fell 15 inches and produced a permanent compression of .1658 inch in a copper cylinder, the time consumed in producing this compression being .0030317 of a second. The machine produces by means of photography a curve showing the precise progress of this compression. The chronograph which reaches such remarkable results consists of a rotating cylinder, with a surface velocity of 100 feet a second, on which is photographed a pencil of light, which is passed through a hole in the end of a rapidly vibrating tuning fork. The delicacy of this instrument is far greater than that of the ordinary tuning fork chronograph recording on a surface blackened by smoke.

From that time our anticipated pleasant voyage has been a delusion and a snare. The St. Paul is really a fine vessel, but the officers monopolized half the room so that each state room had, mine for instance, 10 occupants instead of four. All mattresses had been removed leaving just the bare bunks. Then my knapsack and blanket were lost in loading, and until we unload I shall have to do without. Everyone sleeps on deck. As soon as we struck the ocean swell I got sea sick and only recovered when we pulled into the bay this afternoon. The rations too were to me simply unbearable. From Friday noon until Sunday at the same time I ate only two hardtack with a little potted ham Stalter gave me. Since then I have been living quite well on what I could buy and beg from the saliors' cook.

Dewey and Merritt May Have Taken All Philippines.

OUR POLICY IS HELD BACK.

Authorities Not Declaring Themselves Until Official Confirmation Is Received.

THE INSTRUCTIONS TO MERRITT.

They Are Made Public-Believed to Be Elastic Enough to Cover Any or All of the Philippine Islands That May Have Been Brought Under Our Jurisdiction by the Spanish Surrender - General Merritt's Dispatch, Regarding the Fall of Manils, Received and Made Public' Our Loss, He Said, Was Not Accurately Known, but About Fifty.

London, Aug. 19.—The Hougkong correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "The terms of the capitulation of Manila, as agreed upon Saturday between General Jaudenes and General Merritt, include the cession of the Philippine archipelago to the United States."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 .- One of the points on which the officials are without definite information is as to the extent of our present authority in the Philippines. Under the peace protocol the United States was given the occupation of Manila, with the bay and harbor, until a permanent disposition of the Philippine question was reached. But according to press dispatches, which are so circumstantial as to be credited in most official circles, General Merritt and Admiral Dewey received the capitulation of the entire Philip-pines archipelago. There appears to be some doubt therefore even among officials as to whether our present authority or jurisdiction covers Manila only, as provided by the peace protocol, or covers all the Philippines, as provided by the reported terms of capitulation to Merritt and Dewey. There is a disposition to await fuller official information before laying down a policy as to the extent of our jurisdiction in the islands. Secretary Alger said that he had heard nothing official of the surrender of the entire Philippine group. At the same time the secretary did not discredit the accuracy of the press advices stating that the capitulation had this farreaching effect.

Pending more definite information, the attitude of officials is to assume that our authority covers Manila city, Manila bay and harbor and also such other territory as may be occupied by the military and naval forces. The latter phrase is elastic enough to cover any or all of the Philippine islands that may have been brought under our authority by the recent surrender. The instructions sent to General Merritt have in view the expansion of our possessions beyond the terms mentioned in the protocol, as they distinctly state that this government is in possession of Manila and that its authority to preserve peace and order will be exerted "within the territory occupied by their military and naval forces." The cabinet meeting today is expected to deal with the many detailed questions concerning the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico, which have arisen since the peace protocol was

The war department made public yesterday the instructions sent to General Merritt, as follows:

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. Major General Merritt, Manila, Philippines:

"The president directs that there must be no joint occupation with the insurgents. The United States is in possession of Manila city, Manila bay and harbor and must preserve the peace and protect persons and property within the territory occupied by their military and naval forces. The insurgents and all others must recognize the military occupation and the authority of the United States and the cessation of hostilities proclaimed by the president. Use wnatever means in your judgment are neces-sary to this end. All law-abiding people must be treated alike. By order secretaay war, "H. C. CORBIN, secretaay war,

Adjutant General Washington: "On the 7th inst. Admiral Dewey joined me in a 48-hour notification to the Spanish commander to remove noncombatants from the city. On the same date a reply was received expressing thanks for humane sentiments and stating that the Spanish were without places of refuge for non-combatants now within the walled town.

"On the 9th inst. we sent a joint note inviting attention to the suffering in store for the sick and non-combatants in case it became our duty to reduce the defenses, and also setting forth the hopeless conditions of the Spanish forces surrounded on all sides and the fleet in front, with no prospect of reinforcement, and demanded the surrender as due to every consideration of humanity. "On the 13th we joined with the navy in the attack, with the following result: After about a half hour's accurate shelling of the Spanish lines, MacArthur's brigade on the right and Greene's on the left, under Anderson, made a vigorous attack and carried the Spanish works. The loss is not accurately known, but about 50 in all. The behavior of the troops was excellent and the co-operation of the navy most valuable. Wife of Captain Biddle Resents the Charge.

A COURTMARTIAL FOR HIM.

Ohio Man Accused of Commanding a Retreat In Porto Rico.

GEN. HAINES ORDERED ARREST.

The Captain, It Is Alleged, Was Found In a Culvert Under a Roadway-General Haines and Staff Shamed the Flying Soldiers Into Turning Back-Said They Had Been Ordered to Retreat. Biddle Said to Have Accused Newspaper Correspondent With Giving the Order-Correspondent Was Not With the Ohio Company at the Time.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 19.—Captain T. R. Biddle of Company C, Fourth O. V. I., who is to be courtmartialed at Porto Rico for cowardice in action, comes of a fighting family, his father, H. C. Biddle, who lives here, and his grandfather having been soldiers. One brother is first sergeant and another corporal in this same company. Captain Biddle has been in the Ohio national guard ten years, and was under fire in the miners' riot at Glouster and the lynchers' riot at Washington Court House. He is about 35 years old and married. Mrs. Biddle, who is here, indignantly resented the charge against her husband when asked about it yesterday.
"My husband is no coward," said she,

'and the investigation will prove it." Captain Biddle is an artist. The charge of cowardice was made in a dispatch to The New York Herald, from Pohce, which read thus:

Company C was advancing on their "rabbit hunt" for invisible Spaniards, when suddenly a volley from sharp-shooters spattered about them.

"Hello, the rabbit is no longer on the run," exclaimed one of the soldiers.

Biddle's men were slipping behind the trees and bushes and preparing to make a stand when someone gave the command to retreat.

"Run, boys, there are a thousand to one," came the command, as the men were preparing to make resistance against their as yet invisable foe. It is Captain Biddle gave the alleged that command. Had this panicky alarm not been given, and had not the men seen their commanding officer running with his ick to the fire, they would have stock their ground and fought just as bravely as they did when they received their baptism of fire at Guayamo.

Captain Biddie, it is alleged, was found hiding in a culvert under the roadway. When General Haines and members of the staff heard of the attack they started for the front to rally the demoralized skirmishers. General Haines and his staff officers blocked their flight and shamed the flying soldiers into turning toward the foe. But as they turned they said: "It is not our fault; we were ordered to retreat."

Captain Biddle, when brought before General Haines and asked for an explanation, said: "I did not order retreat; the flight was all the fault of a newspaper correspondent whom the men mistook for an officer. He shouted: Run, boys, the Spanish are attacking

Not only did Captain Biddle say that a correspondent had ordered the retreat, but he named the correspondent. As it happened the newspaper man whom Captain Biddle accused had been talking with General Haines in his headquarters at Arroyo when the attack took place. General Haines remembered this. The accusation had scarcely passed the lips of Captain Biddle when the order came:

"Place that man under arrest." Captain Biddle was taken back to Arroyo, where he is still awaiting trial by courtmartial.

The Third battalion of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania volunteers, which failed to get to Porto Kico with Colonel W. J. Hulings, arrived in camp yesterday under command of Lieutenant Colonel Pickards of Oil City. Detachments of the Third Missouri, First Rhode Island and the Second Tennessee also arrived and went into camp.

Ditmore went to the window of the telegraph office and asked of Agent Hill permission to sing a hymn on the platform and speak, the entire service to last but a few minutes. Mr. Hill politely refused him that privilege whereupon he remarked:

"You will regret that some day, stranger. I have been doing the work of an evangelist for eight years, and this is the first time . I was ever refused the right to speak on a platform."

"I can't help that. The company has rules that must be obeyed at all times,' answered Mr. Hill.

London Papers Comment on Our Proposed Increase.

WOULD GIVE US FOURTH PLACE.

The London Daily Mail Says the New American Naval Program Is Startling In Its Immensity-Declares We Are Not Likely to Remain Long In Fourth Place as a Naval Power, Nor Will It Be Long Before We Will Have a Policy In China.

LONDON, Aug. 19 .- The moring papers comment upon the proposed immense increase in the American navy. The Standard says:

"Such a fleet operating from Manila as a base would be able to exercise considerable influence upon the progress of events in Chinese waters and added to the English China squadron and the Japanese navy would make a mighty armament indeed."

The Standard suggest that this consideration may give Russia a pause.

The Daily Mail says: "The new program is startling in its immensity. The American navy jumps to fourth place among the world's fleet. It will not long remain fourtn, nor will it be long before the United States will have a policy in China."

Washington, Aug. 19.—A naval program for presentation to congress, involving the immediate construction of 15 warships, has been adopted by the naval board of experts to whom the subject had been referred by Secretary Long. It provides for three seagoing barbet-turret battleships of 13,000 tons displacement and a minimum of 181/2 knots speed when the vessels are loaded to their deepest draught, or an average speed above 19 knots under ordinary cruising conditions; three first-class armored cruisers of 12,000 tons and 22 knots speed; three second-class protected and armored cruisers of 6,000 tons displacement and 20 knots speed, similar to the Maine type, but highly improved, and for six protected cruisers of 2,500 tons and 16 knots speed.

The reduced speed of these ships was brought about by the desire to secure unprecedented range of action on account of the increased responsibilities of the United States in the Pacific and the certainty that these vessels or most of them would be acquired to make up the fleet in that ocean. The sacrifice of speed to endurance was made with a view to securing vessels of at least 8,000 knots radius, or capable of steaming straightway from San Francisco to Manila and Samoa.

THE ARMISTICE LAWS

REGULATIONS OBSERVED DURING A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

An Armistice Must Be In Writing and Duly Ratified by the Contending Nations' Highest Authorities-Once Signed, It Is Binding and Motives Have No Weight.

An armistice is a cessation of hostilities for a certain prescribed period to be agreed upon by the belligerents. An armistice must be set down in writing and properly and duly ratified by the highest authorities of the nations at war. In case of an armistice between the United States and Spain the signers of the agreement would be President McKinley and the little boy in Madrid, or perhaps his mother, the unhappy regent. There are, however, different kinds of armistice. If one be declared without conditions, it is binding no further than to require and demand a complete cessation of all hostile action along the battle front of both belligerents. If there be conditions, it is declared in the unwritten statutes of international law that these conditions must be clearly and definitely expressed in the agreement, and it must be understood in advance that both parties to the armistice fully comprehend all the terms attached to the agreement. These conditions, no matter what they may involve, must be religiously and scrupulously adhered to on both sides, and the nations will no longer recognize the offender as one of them.

An armistice may be declared null and void by either party to its terms at Five Others Badly Injured by a Collapse any time a violation of its conditions has become palpable. The instant it is declared and proved that an act forbidden in the agreement has been committed the offending nation is at the mercy of its foe, and in all cases where such a violation has been noted it also has been North Fifth street. The dead are: noted that the criminal was taken at a disadvantage and crushed before it could strike an effective blow to back up its treachery. An armistice may also be general and valid for all points and of cigar store, aged 59 years, leaves wife lines of the belligerent nations, or an armistice may be declared special, or referring to certain localities and certain portions of the contending armies. An armistice may be entered into for a definite or stated time, or it may be arranged for an indefinite period. In the last case either side is at liberty to resume hostilities after having given notice to its foe, the form and manner and scope of such notice having of course been noted in the signed agreement entered into before war ceased. The character of an armistice is in no way affected by the motives which bring about the cessation of hostilities. No matter whether the truce is effected s a preliminary to permanent peace or as a breathing spell, during which quiet pired. preparations be made for a revival of war on a more thorough and telling basis, the armistice has the same force and is to be as religiously recognized. An armistice is binding, once signed, and motives are of no consequence. The truce is effective upon the belligerents from the hour of the agreed beginning of it. Officers in the field are bound by its terms from the time they receive official information of its existence. The contracting powers to an armistice must declare in the draft of their truce what communication shall be held between the armies and also what intercourse of traffic or business shall be permitted between persons who inhabit or occupy the land on which the soldiers of both sides are encamped. If no intercourse whatever is to be allowed, this fact must be noted in the armistice agreement and strictly lived up to. If nothing of this nature is mentioned in the paper, the intercourse between the armies will remain suspended as during actual hostilities. When an armistice, however, has been concluded between any fortified place and the enemy engaged in besieging it, it is agreed by all the authorities on international law that the besieging army must at once put a stop to all extension, perfection or advance of his attacking works, just as much as he must cease making sorties or other attacks by main force. On the other hand, martial jurists are not agreed on the point as to whether the besieged have the right to repair breaches or to erect new works of defense within the beleaguered place. It is the custom in this instance for an express agreement to be entered into when the armistice is signed.

As soon as a capitulation is signed the commander who surrenders has no right to demolish, destroy or in any way injure the fortifications, buildings, arms, ammunition or stores in his possession during the time which elapses between the signing of the surrender and its execution unless it is specifically noted in the terms that he is at liberty to do as he pleases with what is in his possession. This point is made as a connection between the action of a besieged officer and an armistice, and some men who know all about warfare hold that if it is unlawful to destroy after a surrender it is therefore equally as criminal to repair broken forts during an armistice. When an armistice is broken by either party to its terms, the other side is released on the spot from all obligations to observe it. Plenipotentiaries may meet to discuss a peace treaty without a preliminary armistice. When this is the case, the war is carried on without the least sign of cessation. The usual rule, however, is for the belligerents to conclude a truce while the messengers of the rulers are in session, endeavoring to reach an agreement which shall end the war.—Owen Oliver in Chicago Times-Herald.

caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weak-ness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back and there was a urinary weakness ac-companying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicine, I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time.

A Wonderful Time Divider.

The new pendulum chronoscope is said to be the most wonderful timing instrument in the world. It measures accurately down to the one-thousandth part of a second. It can be used with the quickness of a stop watch, and neither electrician nor mathematician is needed to operate the instrument, which is mechanical, with simple electrical attachments. The speed of a cannon ball can be determined by the new timer, and it will tell the lapse of time between the firing of a revolver and the starting of a runner, or determine how long it takes a boxer to deliver a blow.

The Remains of Mrs. McDonald Came at Noon.

HAD BEEN ILL EIGHTEEN YEARS

Funeral Services and Interment Will Be Private - An Unpleasant Experience. Aged Resident of Hammondsville Dead. All the News of Wellsville.

While Prof. J. L. McDonald was attending the Township Line picnic, word came from Cleveland that Mrs. McDonald had died at the Newburg hospital. The body was brought here today at noon and kept until her son, Charles R. McDonald, arrived from Chicago. Arrangements had been made to have private services followed immediately by the interment in Spring Hill cemetery.

Mrs. McDonald had been ill for 18 years. She leaves her husband and the children Charles, William and Mary. She was 58 years of age, and was highly esteemed when a resident of Wellsville.

For the Soldiers.

With commendable enterprise the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps are endeavoring to fill a box for the use and comfort of the soldier boys at the front.

It was not expected that the organization would fill the box, but the citizens generally were invited to contribute. Probably through misunderstanding there has not been a generous response to the call made, and the ladies feel somewhat discouraged at the result.

Another call will be sounded which. it is hoped, will meet with better success. Only a few glasses of jelly, some muslin and bandages and several night shirts are all that have yet been sent in. As this is the first effort yet made we feel sure it is only a misunderstanding by the citizens that has not brought out a more generous response.

An Unpleasant Experience.

Dick Haugh and James Kincaid had a most unpleasant experience last night. About 11 o'clock as they were returning from a trip to Jefferson county, the swollen streams were almost impassable, and on reaching Eighteenth street the water was over the bridge several feet. The condition of the bridge was too uncertain to risk driving across, so Mr. Haugh waded through in front of the team.

The Trade In Crockery Is Much Increased.

Says China, Glass and Lamps in reviewing the crockery trade:

"The demand for general pottery products shows up well for this season of the year, and trade during August has been a great improvement on July. New patterns and decorations prepared durance and the fall trade promises to be $6.50. larger than for years. The imports from abroad have fallen off over $3,000-000 during the past twelve months, and since there is every probability of prices in England, our chief importing competitor, being advanced a still further curtailment of imports during the coming year may be confidently expected. As a result of this large decrease of imports it seems most certain that the trade of domestic potters must correspondingly increase, and the new goods prepared for the fall trade should have an exceptionally large demand. The demand for dinner ware and toilet china has been quite large, and our reports show that trade in these lines is very encouraging. The expansion of the trade in novelties and specialties, combining artistic merit with utility, at a low price, and small sets of table service, shows that our potters are very much alive to their opportunities, and fully realize the changed conditions of the trade."

MAINTAINING PEACE.

Conditions at Santiago are such that the government must for a time at least govern with a firm hand. Regular troops and the immunes will maintain order and see that the people do as the new laws direct. No one desires to see done that which will make the United States appear as a tyrant, but until these people realize that liberty is not license to kill and rob, the government must show its power.

HONOR THE BOYS.

It is within the range of possibility that the Eighth Ohio will be mustered out soon after their arrival in this country, and the boys of Company E will come home to the city they left a few months ago.

Then they should be given a rousing reception. The whole town should turn out and do honor to its brave representatives. Everything should be done that will show them how East Liverpool appreciates them and their work. It has been said our celebrations are best when we have had no time to prepare for them, but this time the preparation should be careful and complete. Who will step forward and offer his services? Is there a society or organization in the city to take the initiative? Whoever it may be is assured of a prompt reply from scores of sources. It only needs a few to lead. Let that few be found quickly, for the soldier boys must be appropriately received.

THE NAVY'S HERO.

Admiral Sampson, Admiral Schley and Lientenant Hobson have taken places near to the hearts of the people because of their efficiency and daring during the war, but Admiral Dewey is today as he was early in May, the idol of the navy and the pride of the people. He opened the ball and when the time came appropriately closed it. To him belongs the honor of two great victories, and the people will not forget them.

For some reason the navy has not been well represented in the government, its heroes being content with honors won in war. Now there may be a change. Admiral Dewey has proved himself diplomat as well as fighter. Who knows but what the nation, stirred by its desire to remember the brave admiral, will call him from a place in the life he has so long followed to a high position in the government of the nation. Counting heroes as they go, Admiral Dewey deserves almost anything within the gift of the people.

Private John Robinson Returned Today.

The Member of Company E About Whom So Much Has Been Written Stepped Off a Train In This City This Morning-He Looks Ill and Is Very Weak-Saw Private Simms on His Way Home.

Private John Robinson, of Company E, arrived in the city today and went at once to the home of his sister Mrs. Rens Buckley, Seventh street, where he will remain a few days before leaving for Parkersburg.

On July 25 I was placed on the transport Santiago and taken to Egmark Keys where I remained in quarantine for 10 days and was given a new uniform and placed on board the transport Cigerenca and sent to Fort Rogers, Staten Island where I arrived Wednesday evening. I was given a 30 days' furlough and came home at once. I do not like Cuba at all and from what I have seen of it I hate the country. I like soldier life in the United States, but have no desire for it in Cuba.

"Our company was in the Third battalion and the regiment was scattered all over the hills. We were located about four miles from the main army corps. When I left every member of the company was enjoying good health and there was very little sickness in the regiment. Our company has the reputation of having the best set of officers in the regiment and there is nothing that Captain Hill and Lieutenants Anderson and Hall left undone to add to the comfort of the boys. I was sorry to hear I caused them so much worry, and was surprised to learn when I arrived here that I had been reported as missing.

"When I boarded the Cigerenca I found Private Ezra Simms on board and had a talk with hin. He can see slightly with his injured eye, and the physicians give him some hope that he will not lose the sight of either eye."

Private Robinson was pleased to hear that the Eighth regiment was bound for the United States, and expressed great satisfaction that he would not be called to Cuba to rejoin his regiment.

Ben Cable of Illinois tells of an experience of his in midocean. The day was foggy, and most of the passengers were below listening to two evangelists who were holding a particularly fervid gospel meeting in the saloon. Suddenly and without the slightest warning there was a terrific crash and the eigines stopped. Every one rushed or deck. The steamer had run into an iceberg.

Nobody knew what damage had been done, and everybody was ready to fly into a panic. The boats were lowered, and then for the first time the two evangelists, who had been forgotten in the saloon, appeared on deck. They wore their overcoats and their hats and they carried rugs and handbags. They elbowed their way rudely to the rail, with the evident intent of securing for themselves first places in the boat. It was just at a time when a breath would have sent the passengers panic stricken into the boats.

The sight of the two evangelists was about to undo the work of cool headed officers, when a pert little cockney stepped up to the gentlemen with the rugs and handbags.

"Beg pardon," said he, tipping his cap, "'ave a cab, sir?"

And in the general laugh the danger of panic was averted. - Washington

The Horses of Manila.

Among the first things to impress a stranger are the horses. Descended from horses brought from Mexico, they have become much smaller, while they are also much more shapely. In fact, I have never seen a better looking breed. There is nothing of the pony in their shape, though in size they range between 48 and 52 inches. At first it looked absurd to see them ridden by big men whose stirrups hung down to the horses' knees, but I soon found out that they easily carried a rider weighing 200 pounds. The foreigners have a jockey club, which holds two meetings a year at the beautiful turf track at Santa Mesa. To avoid sharp practice members of the club only are eligible to ride. This necessitates a scale of weights starting at 132 pounds and rising to 154 pounds. It demonstrates the speed and strength of these miniature horses that a mile has been run in 2:10 by a pony carrying 150 pounds. Only stallions are used. Mares cannot even be brought into the city. Nobody walks; everybody rides, and on any special fiesta thousands of carriages fill the streets. I doubt if there is a city in the world that can turn out half the number of private vehicles in proportion to the

Faithful Unto Death.

On the point of courage we have not yet seen in print a very notable instance that is current in service circles. It relates to one of the numerous heroic but useless struggles on the northwest frontier of India when our men were sent forward to carry positions that had to be relinquished as soon as occupied. When the men were retiring, harassed by the fire of the hillsmen and bewildered by the growing darkness, a party of 13 went astray and found themselves in a position where resistance and retreat were alike hopeless. They were exposed without protection and were shot down one by one.

When their comrades retook the valley and discovered the bodies, they discovered also the evidences of a rare act of courage, devotion and cool judgment. Knowing that their end had come, and, knowing further that every Lee-Metford rifle that fell into the hands of the Afridis meant the loss of many English lives, the men had extracted the breech locks from the rifles and hurled them down the ravine, so that the rifles when taken should be useless to their captors. -London Saturday Review.

The Nagur and the Fiddle.

Here is a story that the late Frederick Douglass used to tell about himself, says the Buffalo Express. Once when he was in Dublin he felt very lonesome. He was wandering about the streets when he was attracted by two violins in the window of a secondhand dealer. Frederick entered and asked the price of one of the instruments.

"Five shillings, sor," said the Irish

Frederick tuned the violin and began to play "Rocky Road to Dublin." Soon the proprietor's wife heard the music and entered the rear door. Then Frederick started in on "The Irish Washerwoman," and the couple began to dance for dear life. When the music and dancing stopped, Frederick tendered the dealer 5 shillings, but his performance en the violin had greatly enhanced its value in the mind of the storekeeper, and as he hurried away a place of security he exclaimed:

"If a black nagur can git sich chunes out of that fiddle, I'll never sell it at any price, begorrah!"

Vindication.

"Are you not ashamed to look your children in the face?" hissed the unhappy girl.

Her father bit his lips; that done, he

"I will no longer endure to be unjustly reproached!" he cried. "You kids get your pug noses from your mother's folks!"

Sinking into a chair, he wept weak tears, not strong enough indeed to phase the colors in the upholstering .-Detroit Journal.

Finance Committee Prepared For Election.

WHY THE BONDS ARE NEEDED

Streets Must Be Repaired at Once, and to Borrow the Money From the Banks Would Mean a Useless Expenditure In Interest-Taxes Not Increased.

Finance committee of council held a meeting last evening for the purpose of completing arrangements for the bond election tomorrow.

There were present Mr. Marshall, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Cain and Mr. Olnhausen, and the gentlemen were not long in winding up the business.

While the hospital bond issue is an important matter, the city officials are anxious to see the street matter attended to by the people. It is absolately necessary that something be done at once, and bonds are asked because the city can in that way save money.

If bonds are issued the city can sell them at a premium and the rate of interest will be but four per cent, while if the people do not vote in the affirmative council must borrow the money from the banks and pay seven per The bond issue will not increase the rate of taxation for council argues that it can do as it has done in other years, pay off the bonds without an extra assessment. The desire is that every man who is interested in an economical administration of the city's affairs will go to the polls tomorrow and cast a ballot in favor of the bond issue. By so doing he will help the city and help it in the cheapest possible way.

It will be readily remembered that the heavy rains of the summer have played havoc with the hill streets. The city was not to blame, for the work had been done with the express intention of resisting any reasonable flood. The floods of this summer, however, have been unusually heavy, and because they could not have been forseen the damage could not have been prevented. Portions of certain streets have been so torn up as to render them useless until council obtains the money to make re-

It is proposed to make all repairs permanent and so construct the paving as to do away with any possibility of damage from future floods. The most improved methods will be used, and nothing left undone that will insure safety in the future. The plans already prepared provide for the best of improve-

The streets which must be repaired are Avondale, West Market, Grant, Spring, Jefferson and Lincoln avenue, and culverts on Pennsylvania avenue, Mulberry and Virginia streets, and a culvert over Tanyard run. The damage is of such a nature as to render portions of the streets useless, and unless something is done very the portions already injured will be obliterated. Every heavy rain only causes more damage, and this condition will prevail until the last is reached.

It will be noticed that all portions of the city are interested. The damage 18 widespread. For that reason ward should turn tomorrow and support the bond issue. It is the duty of all to take this action, and the NEWS REVIEW believes the people will not fail the authorities. The money must be secured for the purpose specified, and the best and cheapest method is by an issue of bonds.

A Marvelous Time Measurer.

As illustrating the triumphs of modern science in the construction of instruments of precision The Scientific American instances a chronograph for recording infinitesimal intervals of time, such as a millionth of a second or less, which is stated to have been used to record autographically the compression by a blow of a cylindrical piece of copper. In one case a 33 pound weight fell 15 inches and produced a permanent compression of .1658 inch in a copper cylinder, the time consumed in portant improvements will be begun yet producing this compression being .0030317 of a second. The machine produces by means of photography a curve showing the precise progress of this compression. The chronograph which reaches such remarkable results consists of a rotating cylinder, with a surface velocity of 100 feet a second, on which is photographed a pencil of light, which is passed through a hole in the end of a rapidly vibrating tuning fork. The delicacy of this instrument is far greater than that of the ordinary tuning fork chronograph recording on a surface blackened by smoke.

Hotel Clocks Always Truthful.

"When I am traveling, I never put the slightest confidence in a household clock," writes Robert J. Burdette of "Tongueless Liars," in The Ladies Home Journal. "A hotel clock I can depend upon. There are too many watches in a hotel-good watches, watches whose absolute correctness means money to the commercial men who regulate the traveling life of this country. A lying clock would be spotted in a quarter of a second, and the unhappy clerk scourged with pitiless sarcasms therefor. In the course of my wanderings up and down this part of the globe I missed a few trains and lecture engagements by depending upon clocks in the homes of my friends Having thus paid for my lesson, $15,-000 or $20,000, I think, by my own computation of the value of my lectures (set ahead a little bit, you know, it may be a trifle fast. I haven't time to look up the exact figures,) I withdrew all my trust from mantel clocks, especially the highly ornamented marble and gilt variety with silver bells or cathedral chimes.'

A little girl in Denver the other evening finished her prayer as follows: "God bless papa and mamma and Dewey and Shafter and Schley and Sampson and Teddy's terrors, and I wouldn't be very hard on poor Admiral Cervera if I were you."-New York Tribune.

OFF COAST OF PORTO RICO, Aug. 1 .-

That is as definitely as I can tell you where we are. We were taken on board and set sail as soon as the last case of round trip rate and time of train: supplies was on board at 6 o'clock Friday morning. From that time our anticipated pleasant voyage has been a delusion and a snare. The St. Paul is really a fine vessel, but the officers monopolized half the room so that each state room had, mine for instance, 10 occupants instead of four. All mattresses had been removed leaving just the bare bunks. Then my knapsack and blanket were lost in loading, and until we unload I shall have to do without. Everyone sleeps on deck. As soon as we struck the ocean swell I got sea sick and only recovered when we pulled into the bay this afternoon. The rations too were to me simply unbearable. From Friday noon until Sunday at the same time I ate only two hardtack with a little potted ham Stalter gave me. Since then I have been living quite well on what I could buy and beg from the saliors' cook.

During the time I was so sick I could scarcely raise my head Statler waited on me hand and foot, brought me lemons and shared his blanket with me. Reverend Vibbert, who has been in He has proved a true friend, and will with no accident. As soon as I get a little more to eat I know I will be all

Our introduction to Porto Rico was rather interesting. As-soon as we sighted land this morning each man was issued 50 rounds of ammunition. Then we started straight for a harbor which showed in the coast. Soon two gunboats appeared coming out of the harbor and on one the hori-Instantly our decks cleared for action, and every gun was loaded, from the six big 5 inch guns to the little six pounders, and the gunners were all standing in their places. Then the boats began to signal, and we found them to be the Yankee and the monitor Terror. After some more signaling we went on past the harbor toward the boat on the horizon. It proved to be the battleship Massachusetts, a perfect monster. I counted 16 big guns and 18 rapid fire and one other captain to converse through megophones. Then the band played the "Star Spangled Banner," everybody cheered, and we passed down the coast under escort of the Terror. After sailing 10 miles we entered our present resting place and found here some of the other transports which had arrived during the night. Lying also in the harbor are the battleship Oregon, the cruiser Columbia and a smaller cruiser whose name I could not learn.

We dropped anchor just at sundown and lighters came off at once. They are now busy unloading the new rifles we will get after we go ashore.

LATER-General Miles just came aboard, and Stalter just heard the colonel tell our major that we were to take a small town about 15 miles away from here tomorrow, so that will be my initiation in battle. It is likely, however, there will not be a shot fired, but you may rest assured the gallant Fourth will do her share. Have no fear for me.
